Beyond the Numbers

Before attending Dickinson Law, members of the class of 2023:

served as a brigade chemical officer protecting soldiers from chemical, biological, and nuclear threats investigated challenges concerning sexual health among youths in Africa and created an effective program that educates youth and promotes safe sex practices spent months in a camp for refugees from the civil war in Sierra Leone before immigrating to the United States co-founded and served as CEO of a firm focused on wireless power transfer and the development of wireless battery charging hardware and software served in multiple military branches, including the U.S. Army, U.S. Coast Guard, U.S. Marine Corps, and U.S. Navy served with AmeriCorps Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) and worked alongside community members to meet our nation's most pressing challenges, such as eradicating poverty completed an internship with the legislative assembly in Brazil served as a mass care responder with the American Red Cross worked as a field biologist for the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission
