

Dickinson Law implemented its Loan Repayment Assistance Program (LRAP) in the spring of 2003, with the goal of encouraging careers in public interest law by assisting law graduates with their educational loan repayment obligations. "Public interest" employment is defined as: work for a not-for-profit organization that qualifies for tax exemption under IRS Code §§ 501(c)(3), (4), or (5); and is work that provides legal assistance to under-served people or interests. The LRAP Committee determines an annual income guideline amount to provide applicants with a figure to be considered when applying for the program. Applicants earning more than the annual income guideline may be deemed ineligible by the LRAP Committee. For 2021, the income guideline is $55,000.

The deadline for submission of a complete application is May 1 annually. If May 1 falls on a non-business day, materials will be considered timely if they are received by the next business day.
